PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

14.32 Acres – Building Site, Recreation & Hunting – West Terre Haute, Indiana

Located at 4016 Douglas Avenue in West Terre Haute, Indiana, this 14.32-acre property offers a great combination of potential homesite, recreational ground, wildlife habitat, and convenient access to nearby schools and amenities.

Approximately 5.55 acres are open ground, providing an ideal setting for a new home, weekend cabin, or recreational retreat. This area has begun to grow up in natural vegetation, and if left undisturbed, it should continue to develop into thicker bedding and nesting cover for deer, turkey, and other wildlife. A portion of the open acreage could also be converted into strategically placed food plots, creating an additional food source and helping hold wildlife on the property.

The remaining acreage is wooded with a nice mix of tree species and some quality timber. Tree rows along both the east and west sides of the property provide additional cover and natural travel corridors. A small drainage creek cuts across the southern side of the property, adding another terrain feature and natural travel corridor for wildlife.

Along the eastern side, there is a well-defined deer travel route with excellent sign and trails that have been worn from years of use. A recent timber harvest on the adjoining property to the east has enhanced this travel corridor even further. As that neighboring acreage regenerates into thick new growth, it should provide excellent bedding and security cover. The eastern side of this property offers a natural location to intercept deer traveling to and from that developing habitat.

The property has deeded access from Douglas Avenue, where city water and electric are available. A septic system will be required for residential construction.

The location adds another level of convenience. Sugar Creek Consolidated Elementary School is approximately one-quarter mile away, while West Vigo Middle School and West Vigo High School are approximately 1.25 miles from the property.

Whether you're looking for a place to build your new home, create a weekend hunting cabin, establish food plots, or simply own a manageable piece of recreational ground close to town, this 14.32-acre property offers plenty of possibilities.
