PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Located just north of Knox, Indiana, this unique 10-acre wooded property offers an excellent combination of hunting, recreation, entertainment, and country living. Located at 5112 E 100 N, Knox, IN, the property is situated in Center Township, Starke County, within the Knox Community School district.

The property features excellent whitetail deer and turkey hunting, with a strong wildlife population throughout the area. A network of trails winds through the wooded acreage, providing great access throughout the property and to established stand locations where the seller has successfully harvested whitetails in the past.

The home was built in 2011 and offers 864 square feet of finished living space with 2 bedrooms and 1 full bathroom. The property also features a great hangout and entertainment area with a pool table and bar, making it an ideal place to gather with friends and family after a day in the woods.

Outside is where this property really stands out. There is a meat-cutting/processing station, along with a fire pit and outdoor bar-style gathering area near the drive. One of the property's most unique features is the elevated hunting blind/treehouse, providing another great spot to enjoy the property and surrounding woods. The assessor's property record also notes an elevated hunting shed on the property.

Whether you're looking for a hunting getaway, weekend retreat, recreational property, or a place to call home, this wooded 10-acre property offers a lot of possibilities in a great location just north of Knox.
