TRIPLE CREEK RANCH | SILVERTHORNE, COLORADO | $26,000,000

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

An exclusive 254± acre retreat outside of Silverthorne, Colorado, Triple Creek Ranch provides luxurious accommodations and breathtaking views in a stunning mountain setting. This is a place just minutes from dining and shopping, yet tucked amongst the aspens and pines in a private valley along the Gore Range. Here, one can retire to either of the extraordinary lodges for solitude or hosting after a day of private fishing or horseback riding. Triple Creek Ranch derives its name from the three tributary creeks that converge within the property to form the head of Rock Creek. These creeks tumble through stands of aspen, pine and willow as they flow through the ranch and into the Blue River, a short distance below the property. Set atop a prominent ridge at the back of the ranch are the Thunder and Elk Lodges – both crafted from refurbished logs that were reclaimed from old cabins in eastern Colorado. Fresh off a multimillion-dollar renovation project, each lodge overlooks lush grounds and three trout ponds while also taking in big mountain views. Each luxury lodge features mountain-chic interiors, six bedrooms, chef-equipped kitchens, wood burning fireplaces and are offered in turn-key condition. Wildlife is often viewed from the lodges, which sit within a short walk of each of other. The ranch has long been utilized as a family enclave, but is well-suited for hosting corporate retreats and other large gatherings. Triple Creek is currently operated as a high-end vacation rental through Cuvée, a preeminent provider of luxury vacation home rentals and curated experiences across the globe. Though Triple Creek holds a lifetime's worth of recreational activities for family and friends within its own fence lines, the adjacent Arapaho National Forest and Eagles Nest Wilderness area are literally out the back door.

The equestrian will approve of the ranch's infrastructure, including a 12,800± square foot fully enclosed and heated riding arena, an impeccable 10-stall horse barn with automatic drinkers, and miles of internal riding trails. The aptly named Thunder Lodge served as home to the white Arabian gelding Thunder, the Denver Bronco's famous mascot. This lodge has two additional stalls with turnouts and automatic drinkers. Triple Creek is well-suited for its operations with complimentary infrastructure, including a 10-bay equipment garage, barn, children's play cabin, ranch manager residence and assorted outbuildings. A significant sprinkler irrigation system waters key areas of the property, and an additional 13± acres of hay meadow are irrigated via traditional flood irrigation.
