been a strong hold in the wildlife community and revered as a great place to hunt and spend time while making those memories or having long weekends of recreation anyway you see fit. This place is the epitome of that idea.

If you look just east of Melvern, Kansas you will find 65 acres of prime real estate consisting of some of the best hunting habitats you can find. The property itself contains a mix of hardwoods and softwoods along with some warm season grasses and open areas cut out amongst the timber. There are a number of large food plots bringing in massive amounts of wildlife to the property. New red gates on the north side of the property just off 309th St. give you access to some of the best wildlife cover around. The property is located about 5 minutes off Interstate 35 at the Williamsburg Kansas exit making it a quick drive from Kansas City. From there a vast trail system allows you to walk to any number of stand sites, watering holes and food plots. Several plots have been put in to not only draw the deer in, but also to hold those deer in the dense cover the property offers. This country has cover and thickets that you could only imagine. Honestly the pictures on this place do not do the property justice. The endless rubs, scrapes and maintained trails weaving through the property can get your blood pumping in just a few minutes and you can instantly see why this place is a gem. This tract is nothing short of an excellent recreational property and is ready to be a build site for a permanent residence or a weekend cabin. It has an endless amount of potential for many years to come!
