This 412± acre tract has been in the same family for over 200 years, creating cherished memories for generations. Located on Woodrow Martin Road in Rankin County, MS, this diverse property meets the needs of sportsmen and outdoor enthusiasts alike.

The land features approximately 200± acres of 12–14-year-old loblolly pine plantation ready for thinning, along with 80± acres of merchantable timber consisting of a 60/40 hardwood-pine mix, most of which is mature. Additionally, there are 100± acres of mature pine that are over 25 years old. Two creeks traverse the property, complemented by well-managed hardwood SMZs. Behind the homestead, 12± acres of pasture provide an excellent space for horses or hay production. A 5± acre duck pond with a blind near the creek has a history of wood ducks. The property is abundant with deer and turkey and has seen no hunting pressure in decades.

The road system has been recently improved, and numerous trails wind throughout the land. An old home near the front is not habitable and needs to be removed, but a barn remains in good shape. The homestead area is beautiful but requires clearing to fully reveal its potential. Should you desire to relocate the homestead from the front of the property, there are also several excellent sites for a cabin or lodge. Water and power are available.

This property presents an excellent long-term timber investment and an outstanding recreational opportunity for hunters seeking a place near the metro area that will only grow in value with time and maintenance. With the proper care, this hidden gem will shine. Call Tom today!
