Welcome to Hunter's Paradise! Long Creek Plantation Equity Share is a haven for hunters, offering year-round activities for you and your family. Long Creek Plantation gets its name from the clear water, a sandy bottom creek flowing through the heart of the property, providing a lifeline to the abundant wildlife and a beacon of endless recreational activities. This expansive property encompasses approximately 940+/- acres in both Tallahatchie and Grenada County. Five total shares are available. The property features custom-built cabins available in two configurations: three-bedroom, two-bath, or four-bedroom, four-bath. Each cabin has private sheds and barns for ATV and gear storage, and three of the cabins overlook Long Creek and offer fire pits and park benches so you can watch the kids play while enjoying your favorite beverage while watching the sunset. The equity share also includes a 120 HP cab closed tractor, a 30 HP Kubota tractor, and a backhoe for maintaining your food plots. The property has an extensive road system and over 20 meticulously managed food plots. Additionally, there are four fishing ponds stocked with bass, bream, and crappie. This land has been expertly managed for trophy deer for several years in collaboration with neighboring landowners, who supplement the wildlife with protein in the off-season to help grow mature bucks in the area. Many deer harvested on the property have scored in the 160-170s range. In the off-season, you will have no trouble chasing that long beard of your dreams, as the turkey population is impressive, and the area is also home to an abundance of small game. The property features a private drive with a gated keypad entrance. The hunting club imposes no minimum dues or fees. It is genuinely a hunter's paradise that offers an excellent place to enjoy with family and friends.
