PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

80 Acres for Sale in Logan County, Oklahoma | Homesites & Hunting Land

Explore 80 acres of post oak timber, cedar cover, and grassy openings in Logan County, Oklahoma. With gentle draws to the north and south and an inviting meadow at its center, this tract brings together hunting habitat, varied terrain, and room to build a country home secluded by timber.

The central meadow and elevated vantage point offer an appealing setting to envision a home overlooking portions of the property. The mix of open ground and woods offers opportunities to blend everyday country living with recreation.

Post oaks and cedars create natural cover for whitetail deer and turkey, while the lowland draws add another dimension to the hunting landscape. Timber edges, grassy openings, and changes in elevation offer places to scout wildlife movement and consider stand or blind locations. Open areas also provide opportunities to explore food plots and habitat improvements.

Near the road, an approximately half-acre low area framed by high berms presents a potential pond site if improved. A future pond could become an attractive landscape feature and a gathering spot for recreation and wildlife. Other low-lying depressions offer additional possibilities to explore for water retention and habitat improvements.

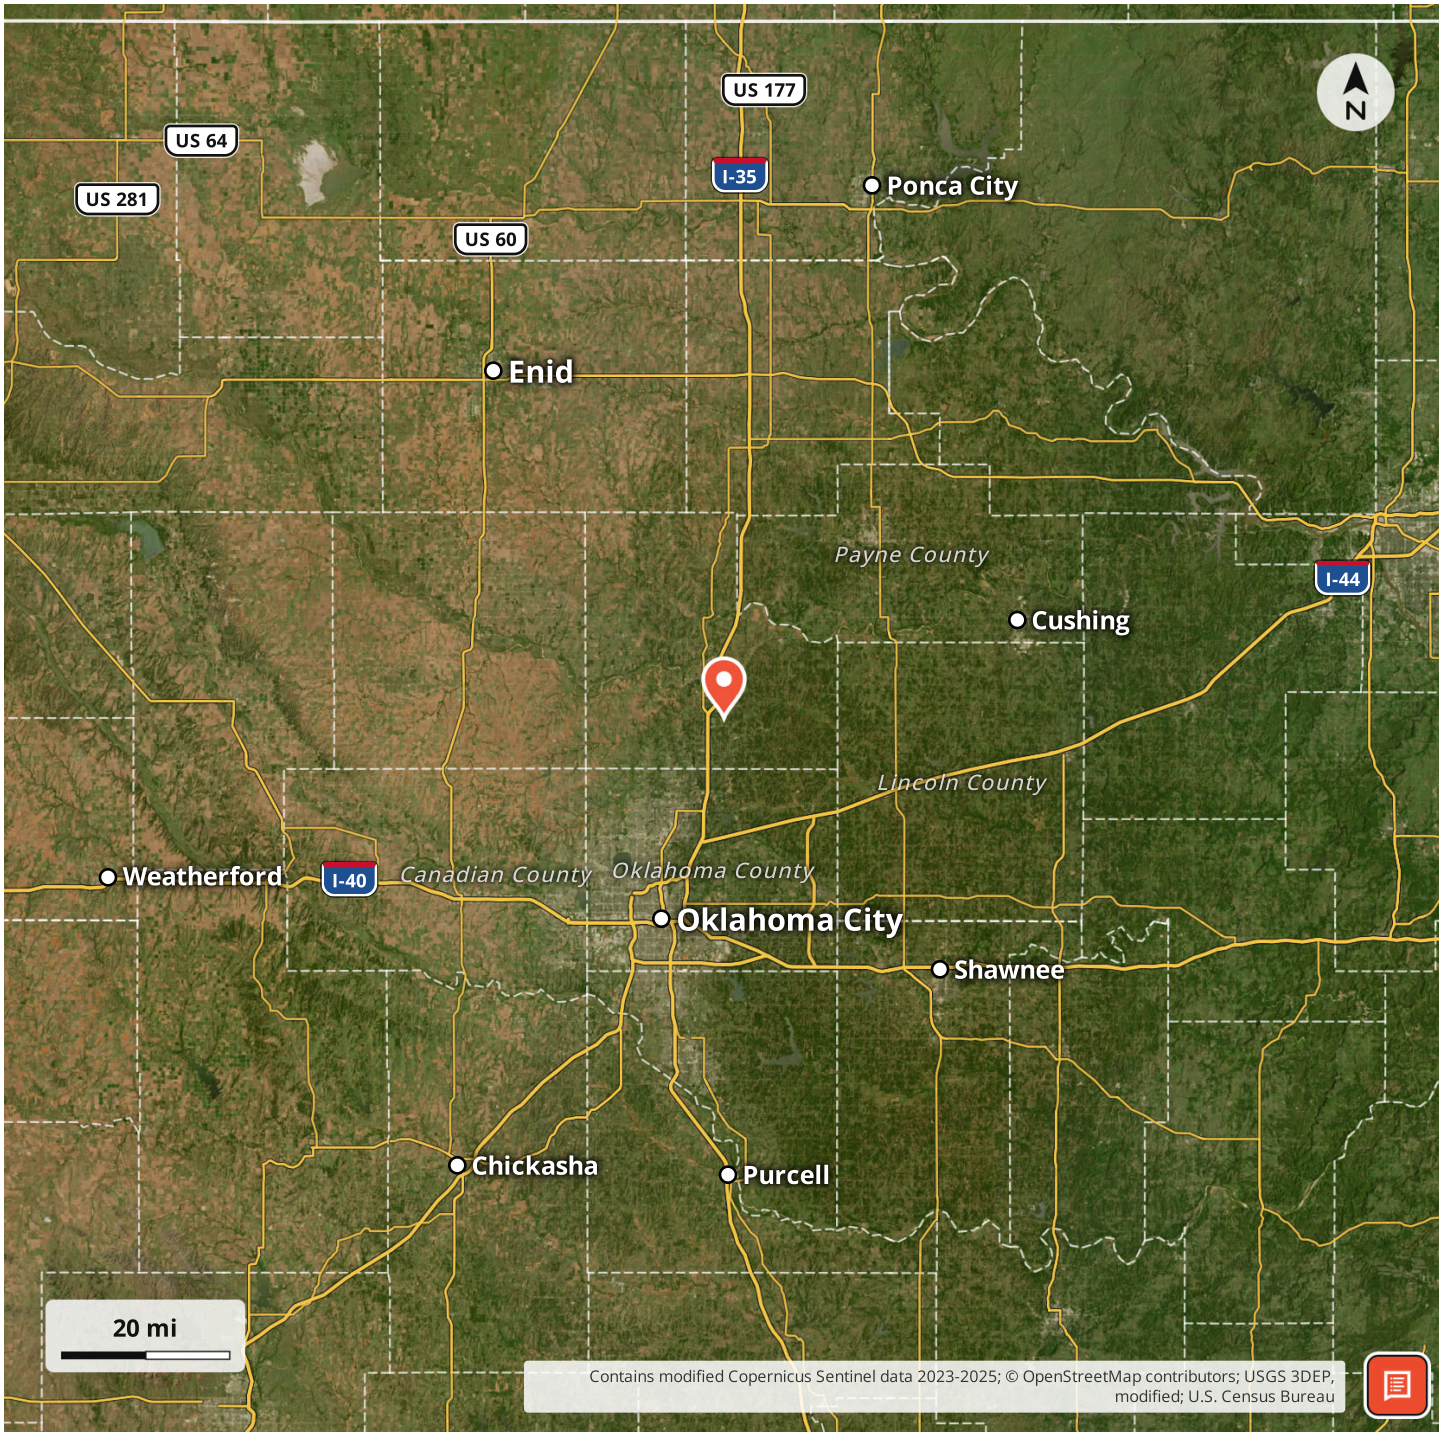

Whether you envision a full-time country home, a weekend getaway, or a bow hunting property, these 80 acres offer space to bring those plans together. Build your home, enjoy the woods, and make the land part of your everyday life.
