MORE ABOUT CASTENS CREEK PLANTATION HUNTING CLUB

From the moment you turn off Way Road, a winding gravel drive carries you through the property, offering an “off the grid” feeling. The drive gradually rises to a bluff with an estimated 80-foot elevation change to the common camp—a rustic four-bedroom, two-and-a-half-bathroom cabin surrounded by mature oaks draped in Spanish moss. The cabin offers front and back porches, a wood-burning fireplace, comfortable living space, and a fully functional kitchen. A new HVAC system was installed in June of 2025. Additional improvements include multiple covered sheds, a spacious pole barn for your equipment, and fuel tanks for both diesel and gas.

The landscape features a diverse mix of mature timber, natural regeneration, select-cut sections, and small clear-cuts—creating a variety of habitat types that support the property’s wildlife. In addition to its river frontage, the property is intersected by Castens Creek and Birds Creek, along with multiple sloughs and oxbows that provide additional water sources throughout the tract. Miles of internal trails lead through the property to numerous food plots and multiple sandbars along the river. This is a property built for the true outdoorsman. Deer hunters will find the perfect mix of food plots and natural forage. Bow or rifle, there are plenty of setups: from transition zones and oak flats to thickets and secluded clearings.

MORE ABOUT CASTENS CREEK PLANTATION HUNTING CLUB

When spring hits, turkey hunting takes center stage. With a proven history of strong populations and classic river-bottom habitat, it's the kind of place where every hunt feels like a memory in the making. Castens Creek adds waterfowl opportunity, including a duck impoundment equipped with a tractor-operated hydraulic structure for easy water control. Other areas provide room for expansion and duck food planting.

When the hunting seasons are over, the Big Black River becomes the focal point with catfishing, camping, and river trips. Wide sandbars are ready for tents and bonfires, making this property a true year-round escape. As an added bonus, landowners get to enjoy four annual alligator tags.

Equity shares at clubs like this are few and far between in Central Mississippi, especially in relation to the metro area.

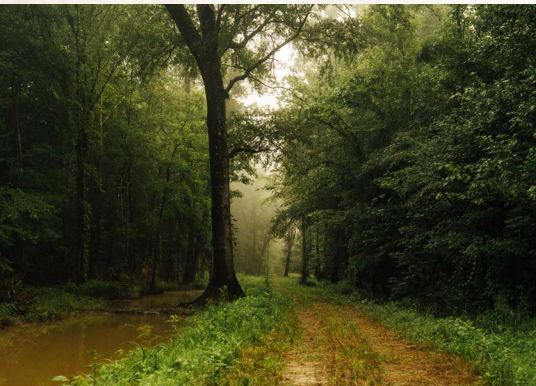

If you've been looking for a club with a short drive from the metro area, give Michael Oswalt or Hunter Pridgen a call for your private tour of Castens Creek Hunting Club today and experience #TheSmallTownWay.
