WELCOME TO THE HARDEMAN 308

INTRODUCING THE HARDEMAN 308 IN HORNSBY, TENNESSEE. This Hardeman County tract offers 308± surveyed acres of recreational and hunting land with the access and infrastructure already in place to enjoy the property from day one. With quality deer and turkey habitat, established food plots, box blinds, an interior road system, and potential build sites, this property is well suited for a hunting retreat, recreational getaway, or long-term land investment.

The property features select-cut timber, creating an open canvas for the next owner to implement a wildlife and habitat management plan tailored to their goals. There are currently five established food plots and three box blinds, with additional room to expand the food plot system and add more hunting setups throughout the property. King Branch Creek provides a natural water source and adds to the property's wildlife habitat. Combined with the timber, food plots, and varied cover, the Hardeman 308 offers a solid foundation for continued deer and turkey management.
